Pathways to University

Navitas offers pathways to university that create opportunities for a wide range of high-potential international students. Depending on a student's academic and/or English results they may choose to study either a Foundation program or International Year One.

International Year One is the equivalent to the first year of university at the partner Institution. It is sometimes known as a diploma, university transfer program, or similar. Upon successful completion of the International Year One program, students become eligible to enter the second year of the corresponding degree at the partner university.

International Year One programs teach essential subject matter, build life and employment skills, and improve English language abilities. We introduce students to university life in a highly supportive environment dedicated to their academic success, and with more attention from instructors and support staff.

Our colleges are closely aligned with our university partners, with most colleges located on the university partner campus. This gives students access to university facilities from their first day.

Global Campuses

Navitas also offers a selection of Global Campuses – branch campuses of UK and Australian universities that allow students to earn a UK or Australian degree in exciting international locations.

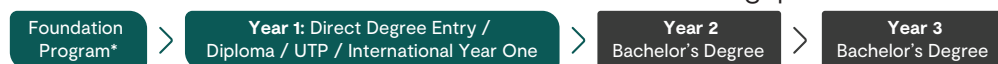

Eligible students who wish to study at Global Campuses have the option to enter directly into the first year of a degree. Some Global Campuses also offer pre-university or first-year equivalent programs.

Choose from:

- Lancaster University, Leipzig (Germany)
- Curtin Singapore (Singapore)
- Murdoch University Dubai (UAE)
- Edith Cowan University – Sri Lanka Campus (Sri Lanka)
- Deakin University Lancaster University Indonesia (Indonesia)
- Charles Sturt University Sydney and Melbourne (Australia)
- La Trobe University Sydney Campus (Australia), or,
- Western Sydney University Sydney City Campus (Australia).
